

BHARATH KANNAN

Web designing, Marketing, Business

Hi there, I'm Bharath. A skilled web designer and marketing expert with several years under my belt, I thrive in diverse environments. Working with various startups, I've honed my craft in roles ranging from web development and design to marketing and community management. This wealth of experience and my keen interest in business make me a perfect fit for the Business Development Executive role, or any opportunity that lets me leverage my diverse skillset and passion for growth.
